How is your child feeling about the start of school and what should we know to best support the transition at the start of the year?

What are your child's interests, strengths, and/or skills?

How independent is your child in terms of self-care skills?

How and when would you like me to be in touch with you this year?

- What do you hope will be the focus of our communication?
- Are there other supportive adults I should include in my communication with you?

Is there anything else you'd like us to know that will help us support your child?

What languages are spoken in your household?

Are there other important people in your student's life you would like us to know about?
