

Inside Ivy

A private, social publication exclusively for the residents of Bellair, Ednam, Farmington and Flordon

March 2017

Meet the MacKethan Family!

Photography by:
Brook Robinson

YOUR STORIES. YOUR PHOTOS. YOUR COMMUNITY.

meet your neighbors

Natalie MacKethan (14)

Parker MacKethan (10)

The MacKethan Family!

Photography & Writing By: Brook Robinson

- Custom Framing
- Shadowboxes
- Mats to go
- Canvas Stretching
- Needle-art Framing
- Tabletop Frames

"I began my artistic career as a photographer, studying at the Corcoran School of Art and continuing at Northwestern University, earning a degree in Art History. After college, while working at Bonhams & Butterfield in California, I constantly evaluated artwork of all media and styles, focusing on acquisitions in the Trusts & Estates Division. After a career in business, I started a small art consultancy in Washington, DC, focusing on helping clients find and install artwork for their homes and offices. In the past four years I started painting in oil and delving into the process of creating my own work. I have studied under the direction of Jordan Bruns at the Yellow Barn Studio in Bethesda, Maryland as well as locally with Renee Balfour at McGuffey Art Studio in Charlottesville, Virginia." —Logan MacKethan

The Great Frame Up

1860 Rio Hill Center Charlottesville 434.973.8588

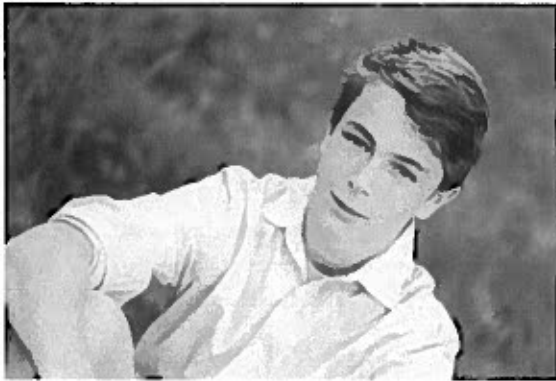

www.charlottesville.thegreatframeup.com

Logan and John

"From my beginnings as a photographer, I insist on painting wonderful compositions. Although I typically paint in my studio from a series of photographs, I challenge myself to recreate images that trigger emotions and visual memories. In my botanical work and in my landscapes, I seek to balance the bold masculine elements with the more subtle feminine ones."
—Logan Mackethan

Conrad Mackethan (16)

The MacKethan family moved to their lovely home on Wellington Drive 2 ½ years ago to “escape the bubble” of Washington, DC. They were seeking respite from the hectic city lifestyle, and they certainly found it in the beautiful Ednam Forest neighborhood!

John grew up in Upperville in Loudoun County and is Vice President of Consumer Marketing at National Geographic. Logan, a Washington, DC native, is a talented artist and consultant. Logan is on the Farmington Arts Committee and the STABFAB Committee at St. Anne’s Belfield.

John and Logan have three active children: Conrad (16), Natalie (14) and Parker (10). All three children attend St. Anne’s Belfield. Conrad is a skilled guitarist, having honed his skills through the “Highway to Rock” program at Stacy’s Music. Conrad co-founded the STAB Jazz Club and has performed at the Jefferson and the Ante Room with his band Catharsis. Catharsis plays cover songs from popular rock and alternative bands. Conrad is also an athlete; squash is his sport of choice. Musical aptitude definitely runs in the family as the two youngest MacKethans are also musicians. Natalie was recently selected for the Junior Regional Orchestra as a violist, and Parker is learning to play piano. Natalie is an equestrian; she horseback rides in North Garden. Parker loves playing basketball with VABA. Their furry family member is a sweet beagle mix named Princess Leia.

See your neighbor Logan’s beautiful paintings at Albemarle Cabinet Co showroom located at 309 E Water St on May 5, 2017!

The MacKethans are tried and true wahoos (John is a UVA graduate). They are also members of the Fralin and St. Paul’s Ivy. This athletic family enjoys playing golf, snowboarding, skiing, and racquet sports together. They also travel as much as they can. Their favorite destinations are Del Ray Beach Florida, San Francisco, and Europe. The MacKethans support various organizations in the area (Logan has donated pieces of her artwork to the silent auction for UVA Children’s Hospital Main Event and for auctions benefitting STAB).

Their move from DC was a good choice, as they have settled in well to the community here. They count themselves lucky to have great neighbors and to live in such a convenient location.